

Bryan Miller has 30 years of Information Technology experience. His education includes a B.S. in Information Systems and a M.S. in Computer Science from Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU). He holds the ISC<sup>2</sup> CISSP and is a former Cisco CCIE. He has been a guest lecturer/speaker at VCU FTEMS, VA SCAN, ISSA, ISACA, IALR and CarolinaCon. He is a former adjunct faculty member in the Information Systems and Computer Science Departments at VCU. He has a published article in the Cutter IT Journal. In August, 2007 he founded Syrinx Technologies specializing in penetration testing of computer systems, networks and applications.